DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-12 are pending in this application.

Action Summary

1. The rejection of record under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) over Griffin is being maintained for the reasons stated in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed September 21, 2001 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Griffin's combination of a pain reliever outer layer and an antihistamine is different from what is claimed. It is the position of the examiner that Griffin teaches the claimed invention. As pointed out by applicant column 4, lines 37-40, describes a two-stage coated capsule that may have a treatment for a sore throat and a pain reliever or antihistamine. It is the position of the examiner that both agents are analgesics.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Griffin (US 5,702,723) in view of Nelson (US 4,446,140).

Art Unit: 1616

Griffin discloses a multiple therapeutic substances delivered in a single pill for oral administration. The outer layer comprising an active substance of substance that will dissolve and have a beneficial effect somewhere is the mouth or upper respiratory area with the subsequent layers dissolving and the contained substances acting deeper within the body such as in the gastro-intestinal area or systemically (col. 3, lines 3-13). The prior art discloses several examples throughout the specification, one specific example comprises a pain reliever that has a rapid absorption and an antihistamine with acts systemically (col. 4, lines 24-36). The prior art does not disclose a time of onset action or that the composition also contains ancillary substances and carriers.

Nelson discloses a method and composition for treating mouth pain. The prior art teaches that it has discovered that dextromethorphan is useful in the treatment of mouth pain in the temporary reduction of such pain (col. 1, lines 37-41). It is the opinion of the examiner that dextromethorphan used in this invention is acting or has the properties of an analgesic. The invention further contains in addition to the dextromethorphan a conventional analgesic or anesthetic such as ibuprofen, naproxen or butacaine (col. 1, lines 49-57 and col. 2, lines 18-32). The pharmaceutical composition may be in the form suitable for oral use (col. 2, lines 52-56).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was use the combine teachings of Griffin and Nelson to arrive at the claimed invention. Both references teach an oral administration of a local and a systemically acting agent with delivers immediate action and sustained release action as claimed in the instant invention.

Conclusion

4. Claims 1-12 stand rejected.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
